

Secondary Causes

The Unprecedented lockdown

Lockdown in the country transmuted into paranoia. Public transportation was halted, and there was Miscommunication between State governments in implementation of the measures taken to solve the migrant crisis.

Driver Fatigue

Drivers had to cover long distances in urgency, in scorching summer with inadequate rest so the migrants could reach their homes, safely. There were enormous crashes which involved state transport buses^z which directly pointed to the fatigue.